OK.. here is his response.. Let me know what to tell him.. I have no problem changing my flight to get in earlier and meet him somewhere during the afternoon and both get picked up by you.. or just having your people pick him up somewhere in the afternoon.

Let me know, and I will let him know.. and I will make new or cancel my reservations accordingly.. I can take him (and you) to dinner on sat night after you get here.. unless he wants to be alone..

"Easiest all around would be Saturday 5pm, if that's OK for you and your friend. We have to leave the place we're staying at about noon, but could arrange to meet you anywhere that's convenient. It's been a long trip for us – almost a month – so more suitcases than for a short trip. I hope that's no problem."

p.s. if we do 5 pm on sat.. I can fly in earlier on sat to see you if necessary, although 240 pm should still get me to your place by 4 pm.. enough time to see the place before we fly out.. Or should I come in friday night?

I suspect that given his age that would make for too long a day on Sunday, given the event in the evening.. I also suspect we could fly in Sat eve, which would give you the day on Sat.. and I could still see your place that afternoon.. so, say we flew here sat evening, perhaps even after dinner?

thanks for looking into this... I understand at his age why he would like to have sat to rest in phx.

I don't know if we can swing this and if there is space at the hotel on sat., or at your hotel on sat.. but if there is, are you up for this? If you want to do it, I am not sure that I should fly in on Sat afternoon.. happy to do that and fly back with you all.. or I could try for a flight friday night so I could see your place.. Let me know what you think asap so I can let noam know.. thanks.. Here is his request:

"All this sounds fine, but a slight complication in our schedule. Would it be possible to pick us up here in Santa Fe on Saturday instead of Sunday? Things have been pretty rushed, and if possible we'd like to spend a little time by ourselves in Phoenix before the day's activities begin. "
