I have put my entire 58 aircraft experience on the table for free, I am not sure which pet of what I have advised you was flawed that you didn't want to listen to?

There is no one who can direct you better than I can, I have delivered the most aircraft and you are getting opinions expressed to you that are not supported by the required information.

The safest way to do what you want to do is in Basel as they have all the Original drawings. There is one place that could manage this in the US.

I am still willing to assist you if you have the desire to.

we ve run into engineering issues, it seems the only place possible as they have the original stc would be basel . the consensus is that as you said the engineering would be paramount . some things installed no loner meet cert, under new standards. will look more carefully in the next few days
