

From: paul krassner <[REDACTED]>

To: "jeffrey E." <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: Subject to change

Date: Wed, 01 Mar 2017 20:16:18 +0000

Attachments: For_March.docx

---

Hey Jeffrey,

Happy Ash Wednesday. Chicago had the largest membership in the Roman Catholic Church of any archdiocese in the country. Lenny Bruce's jury consisted entirely of Catholics. The judge was Catholic. The prosecutor and his assistant were Catholic. On Ash Wednesday, the judge removed the spot of ash from his forehead and told the bailiff to instruct the others to do likewise. The sight of a judge, two prosecutors and twelve jurors, every one with a spot of ash on their foreheads, would have all the surrealistic flavor of a Lenny's fantasy.

Anyway, I just wanted to let you know that a few weeks ago I put the piece about Fake News on hold and have been working on one about Steve Bannon. Meanwhile, below is a link for this month.

Carry on,
paul