 This Week on Kickstarter

May 23, 2013

We're gearing up for summer by researching all the different recipes that involve strawberries. Turns out, there are hundreds(!), and we'll be reading them over in preparation for our Open House on June 6th!

 Short Stack Editions \(Vol. 1 - 3\)

Ideas & Ingredients

A single ingredient can lead to a million ideas. That's the premise behind Short Stack, a series of small-format cookbooks where each edition is devoted to a single ingredient. The first edition delves into tomatoes, eggs, and strawberries. With 50 pages packed with recipes, Short Stack ensures you're bound to find a new way to use your favorite ingredient.

Infrared Photography

The folks behind the Public Lab know a thing or two about technology. Over the past few years, they've mapped an oil spill with balloons, and even created DIY spectrometry kits to analyze molecules. Now they're taking on the challenge of building a low-cost, DIY infrared camera that'll give you the ability to examine the secret lives of your plants!

Old is New

Notebooks are where you doodle and jot down ideas, but can they also be where your ideas come from? Shawn Smith thinks so, and so he's created Resketch, a notebook made of recycled paper, designed to get the creative juices flowing. Need a prompt? You'll find one. Already inspired? Great! Now, get that great idea out of your head and onto paper!
