Thx will confirm ..... It worked.... nick and I are in agreement that he needs to take the lead on 71st he has much more experience working with your needs and I come from an audio video post production world where the movies and songs are made not enjoyed and this distinction should be clear as the hardware that appeals to me may not be the best fit regardless of it's merits in the world of post.

Your email is very timely as nick and I are having a healthy debate on the subject as I type .....

I think your team is getting stronger by the second best scott
