Didn't you look for an assistant?
I bet she has many skills.

Jeffery,

I've finished my advanced immersive software engineering program couple weeks ago. It was intense but worth it.

I'm interested to work on my own projects and eventually launch a startup. Meanwhile, I'm looking for a consulting work as a full stack software engineer to financially support myself (my husband is having hard time supporting both of us).

I'm going back to Russia at the beginning of the November where I have an interview at US Embassy. Within a month I will know if I get my immigrant visa. In either case, I will have a work permit.

Please, let me know, If you know anyone who might need a full stack software consultant. I've attached my resume.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]
