If we lucky with Mongolians would work and I could go to Washington, I can also get involved in this organization

I leant about them through a classmate and her dad is a good friend of a director. They do similar thing as IPI and later I found out that they are parnetring with IPI for cooperative conferences. But unlike IPI, they work on water and energy security issues, I watched a few video conferences on the Mekong River project and drew a few reports from them for my thesis
