Projects We Love

"After I realized that I could change the shape of metal, I felt like there was nothing that I couldn't morph — nothing I couldn't change."

— Jessica Banks, CEO and founder of RockPaperRobot, on studying robotics at MIT

You can read more from Banks on kinetic furniture design and her latest project in this week's edition of Invent, Kickstarter's Design and Technology newsletter. Sign up here to get it in your inbox.

And now, here are four futuristic projects we love.

By Bryn G. Jones

All in 1: The Robot Uprising: Prepare for the AI uprising by outfitting your home with this series of tongue-in-cheek paintings.
