The 3d was pretty good. I'm not sure how to assess it. It is 3d without glasses that is built into a box and soon directly into tvs. It is also adjustable. I haven't read the material but it seems like they have managed it pretty well so far.

I am looking to set up another time to look (in the chrysler building) later this week. Do you want to go? If so what times would work for you say on Thurs?
