yes, please reach out to him by phone or email.
he said the trust is for noams benefit and not valerias.
issue is that it was carol and noams assets and carol was unaware of the new wife. """"?!

Hi Richard,

I think Max is the one who needs to determine what his responsibilities as a trustee are. I can't advise him as that would be a conflict of interest with my representation of Noam. I can, however, advocate for Noam and urge Max to be more liberal with regard to distributions. I can also let Max know that in my view he is not required to confer with Harry when making his distribution decisions. Not only is he not required to confer with Harry, doing so gives Harry a voice that the trust prohibits him from having. Perhaps I should give Max a call to explore why he believes he needs to get Harry on board with the decisions, and that might help the situation. I can also write him a letter with regard to my interpretation of the trust terms. All he is required to do is to consider the interests of the remainder beneficiaries, not obey them. I agree the whole thing is a bit odd.

Does this help?

Thanks,
Deborah

deborah,

spoke to max. he said that the reason he was hesitant about sending noam money was that in the past approximately 70k had gone to valeria. since it was a marital trust he wanted to protect himself and had a duty to determine how the money was going to be spent. he thought you would have a view as to his ultimate responsibility that would inform his decision. I find it odd...

Dear Max,

Please send to Rich Kahn, copied above, all of the trust statements for both trusts, from 2013 through the present. If you have copies of all of the IRA statements for both of Noam's IRAs for the same period please include those as well. Please keep me copied on the correspondence but please do not send me the statements at this time. Please provide this information to Richard by the end of this week, if possible.
