Hi [REDACTED],

Just called but went directly to voicemail. I am available this evening if you call back.

Can you share which sites are you submitting to the directories? We can submit in bulk to receive a discount if you are interested.

I am working on promoting other photo sources currently. It seem the wiki change has not stuck. I will share the list of those with you as well as the other search engine listings we are working on first thing tomorrow.

I did not have a response from Disney Jeffrey today, so I have reached out via social media accounts to try and get a response. The PED article has been submitted to two huff post contacts and I am waiting on response.. I expect all of this to get handled by end of week.

We will discuss the .Net site content when on phone. I know we both have ideas around this.. I'd like to have this site included in directory submissions. The .net should be in our account by morning.

Look forward to your call - otherwise I will try you tomorrow morning.

Sincerely,

Tyler Shears

Hi Tyler,

Thanks for the updated list of directories. I'm doing those today. Update below:

- finishing directory list
- posting new photo for Wikipedia-- I want to bounce the mug shot.
- calling Yext for guidance to boost business directories.
- dead links--- done

Could you call me to discuss getting the below done? Thanks!

- I would like to get the 2 articles we discussed in the works: (PED article and DISNEY).
- content for the .NET site
