Good night boss,

I will look into it for you sir. The off key should have turn all remotable units of the system off. Then the voltage manager on the floor turns off amps for complete shutdown.

Good even Boss,

After running 3 ip trackers 12.35.148.234 belongs to ATT's STC circuit and 12.35.148.219 is LSJ's. The ATT distributor for LSJ and STC is base in Florida (TeleComm). I don't recognize 166.205.50.157 but Scott and I agree it is an ATT cell service IP. I sent the last one (166.205.50.157) onto ATT to verify the IP, to make sure you iPhone is secure. I will report back my findings.

Regards,
JRuan
