My counter will be the same deal without the 2% of old projects.

Jeffery,

They just responded to me this morning...

The 2% of past projects is the most objectionable.

Please let me know your thoughts.

Thanks!

BJ,

I think you know that the Crown family has an eye for the bottom line on investments and does not really care too much for the movie biz. I think I can sell them on the below terms which I hope will suit your purposes and ours. I think if we can agree, we can execute asap and get a wire out next week.

1. 2 Year term @ $300,000 in overhead per year.
- 2.
3. RC to receive 7.5% ownership in projects commenced during the two year term, and 2% ownership of those BJ projects that are already set up.
- 4.
5. RC to receive 50% ownership on those projects that BJ and RC mutually agree to develop/producer together.
6. 10% interest per annum on the overhead (i.e. the $300K) from "overhead reimbursement" line item from any and all production budgets that go into production as of execution of this agreement.

xo,
d
