Currently, their command center software that the cameras connect to runs only on windows machines only. I'm going to call them about running in a VMWare Fusion session on a Mac. Also, they specify 1000 linear feet for electrical runs for each camera. It can support up to six cameras and, if more are required, another computer running the command center software would be necessary.

Here's the FAQ link for your review. ‎███████████████‎

I'll get back to you today with their response to the VMWare Fusion\Parallels solution.

How did you find the Paris setup? Was there anything you wanted changed?

Hope all is well,

WM
