The EDGE "The New Science of Morality" event, which ended yesterday, was a great success, the most important EDGE event to date. David Brooks of THE NEW YORK TIMES was there as well as other journalists. Here's his column in today's paper:

<http://www.nytimes.com/2010/07/23/opinion/23brooks.html?ref=davidbrooks> (which was picked up right away by Arts & Letters Daily: <http://www.aldaily.com/>).

But see for yourself: The first of the Edge Videos of the nine presentations is online. The others, in order of appearance, will be posted one at a time today and tomorrow. Videos of discussions and transcripts to follow.
