Subject: Latest Interior renderings

Larry,

Attached please find the latest interior renderings. The renderings are only meant to show the final locations of the headset hooks and the switch panels. The rest of the interior including upholstery are just for reference and not the final design. Please review the renderings and provide approval at your earliest convenience.

Have you had a chance to review the latest paint samples we sent you? The aircraft including the registration numbers are scheduled to be painted on Monday and we need the final signed color sample approval no later than tomorrow.
