the question ,, compare the likelihood of great works that change humanity, science the arts,, from the countries you have chosen.. unlike the level of sceince lit and th arts of the countires that the original scholars were rescued from.. its fine that you enjoy their dinner companionship, you hardly need an application process for that.. With more than five years ,, in,, can you show one example of exceptional scholarship, that changed a field( the criteria for tenure at even the shittiest of universities,, not simply that they have published articeles.. In Fact has one scholar so far been offered tenure , even at thee second rate universities
