

From: Al seckel <[REDACTED]>

To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: This is a snapshot that Mike took as we were beginning to analyze your problem. I want you to look at see how bad it was...

Date: Fri, 26 Nov 2010 22:17:12 +0000

Attachments: Untitled-1.jpg

---

I know you don't believe in a game of horseshoes, and only ALL balls in the pocket count. However, we are getting there, and ARE making significant progress. Sometimes, I think you may forget what this looked like when we first started. So, I asked Mike to send me from his files, the snapshot he took of the the first page of google when he first started researching this. Look at what you are faced with. This is not something that inspires any confidence, and just wants someone to run. And, leaving there, will just continue to have people run. It is a tar baby.

As of today, I know it isn't ALL cleaned up yet. However, look at the Wikipedia entry, right at the top, and how it labels you, and remember inside that article, was your mug shot, and a very graphic article basically with the worst of the worst details. Now, that has been enormously changed, stablized, and it is right at the top. Many other things are happening, which are not so visible.

We pushed the article you liked up, am pushing and getting rid of the other articles (which had powerful positions), and it has yet to all kick in. We can't make the google crawlers go faster than they do, and there is an enormous amount of work behind the scenes, which at the same time, is helping your reputation in a very positive way. We can see we are moving them, and this will go for successive pages too.

Right now it looks a lot better, and when we are done, it will be a whole lot better. I also have a possible way for you to get your funds all returned on this web site, which is when all the interviews are done, you get Brockman to publish them in a book, get the advance. Who knows, it's a possibility.

I would really appreciate your support on getting this educational thing funded, as it is a very worthwhile and needed project and excellent people are involved. Furthermore, I need to earn income, as doing this web stuff on the side for you does not allow me to collect an income, and Israel will not pay me until 18th of January, and I need to survive before then. Davos wants me to pay for my trip/hotel over there, just so I can speak. I have to leave next week for Paris for a business trip, and need to get some funds in here.