Jeffrey,

I just spoke to Gary about the cement blocks.

He informed that Home Depot does not have the cement blocks with the two holes in them which is the one they need to use.

Also Home Depot gives a 15 % discount on purchases of $ 2,500 or more.

I will see what I can do when I get to LSJ about getting some kind of discount from all the vendors that we do a lot of business with.

I will also sit down with Gary and have him break down the cost per yard of cement and go through those numbers so I can understand why the cost is at $ 350 per yard.

Thank you
