Subject: CGI U Panelist Invitation - Roger Schank

Dear Mr. Schank,

I hope this e-mail finds you well.

I'm writing to convey to you the attached letter regarding the third Annual Meeting of the Clinton Global Initiative University. President Clinton would be delighted to have you as a panelist in a session titled, "A New Age in Education: Using Traditional Media and Digital Technology," on Saturday, April 17, from 10:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. Below are additional details on this session:

CGI U WORKING SESSION: "A New Age in Education: Using Traditional media and Digital Technology"

TIME: Saturday, April 17, 10:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

DESCRIPTION: Digital media and technological breakthroughs are transforming education around the world by providing access in even the most remote regions of the world. In an effort to close the digital divide, people around the globe, including the world's leading universities, are making a vast pool of educational resources open and free to everyone. Digital advances have made it possible to transport previously unavailable libraries of information to students who are ready to learn and teachers who are eager to update their toolkits. Meanwhile, radio, television, and mobile communications are bridging enduring cultural and geographical divides, making education a reality in previously remote regions of the world. This panel will discuss the ways in which students, teachers, telecommunications experts, and social entrepreneurs are using media and technology to bring educational resources to hard-to-reach areas at home and abroad.

We'd be delighted if you could lend your voice to this timely discussion, and we look forward to guidance regarding your availability, at your earliest convenience.

Many thanks,

Kimberly
