

From: "drsra"

To: "jeevacation@gmail.com" <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: Lawyers

Date: Fri, 09 Apr 2010 13:00:18 +0000

Jeffrey,

My investigation reveals there is a dearth of good, aggressive female trial lawyers who are also considered effective. Even the women lawyers with years of experience tell me this, and the ones they like do medical malpractice or would not be sympathetic to your case. Bonnie Sonnaborn limits herself to med. mal., AND she is close friends with Bob C. Rosemary Cooney is in her office and a real tiger, but she dislikes men and also is a friend of Bob. I was told Rosemary Antonacci is a highly skilled civil trial lawyer and she should be considered. She did work in the law office of Scott Michaud (██████████), but may be in Ft. Lauderdale now. I also can talk to you about other defense firms in the area. They do only defense work so they have no questionable relationships with plaintiff lawyers. I have worked with them in the past (and still have a few open cases) and have been impressed with their effectiveness.

Call me & lets talk

SRA