Agreed but they were agreeing to make the deposit fully refundable for the next 30 days...he had a hell of a deal and no real risk

I think a lot was based on Mikes buyer, anything after that is only speculation, if there was a deposit, would be a different world,

I don't think he wants to get stick with two c++ with the D around the corner

As you know I doubted the client that Mike Jones claimed was a buyer. Today I can't seem to get Mike on the phone. Marc, I thought it best we have one voice to JE and since the numbers must come from you let me suggest this. I may have another buyer for 750, it will take me 2 weeks to put it together (assuming I can) JE will need to agree to 12.4m net to him as it is going overseas an there are other brokers in this deal (but one's that can do a deal) Perhaps the refundable deposit on the C++ gives us all what we want.
