Jeffrey hi, if you look at the Bombardier news from yesterday they stole an 11 billion dollar contract out from under alstoms nose from SNCF the first year is 1 billion but the contract specifications are for their new cars which were designed by them only. I still believe Russia and China have 400 billion of orders to go and they have picked up a Chinese order already. I know you don't love this company but keep an eye on their news flow. All the best Jonathan
