i don't know if i mentioned to you that i write for the financial times, anonymously.

once per month. the fashion section.

anyway, my editor lived in london for many years and now lives in brooklyn with her 3 kids (4,6,7) she is looking to "trade" houses for a month in the summer so that someone in london lives in her place in brooklyn and vice versa.

she wants her kids to still be connected so they can call "elevators" = "lifts" and stuff like that!

anyway, other than andrew and ghislaine i don't really know anyone in the uk.

if you know anyone that might take her up on that offer, let me know.

seems random but sometimes you know!!

the other thing is that i have been invited to attend the "luxury conference" in may in los angeles.

it is hosted by the FT and it is basically the bigwigs of the business world of fashion.

i did some cool stuff with the LVMH team so they have been insisting i join.

it is an interesting bunch of people.

i was wondering if you would be interesting in coming with me, for some of it or all of it.

you probably know all of these people already.
