You are correct, but not world wide, only if an operator located else where is willing to participate in a flight demo or charter,

I just spoke to Chris, he is amending the contract, AAG in London also is included, they just acquired that base last year.

Attached is the contract amendment which documents the requested changes to your new S-76 C++. This amendment adds and deletes the items requested by your team during our configuration meeting in October. Please print out two copies of this file, sign both and forward to me by express mail. I will have both countersign and one original sent to your office for file.

Please call me if you have any questions,
