I'm on LSJ this week and there is much progress. We poured the road sample today so we'll take pictures tomorrow after it's cleaned up. I think you'll like it. I talked to Gary about schedule on the fire pit, vegetable garden and private drive. He wants to review the schedule with you on Sunday when he comes in. Basically all of your stone wall guys are busy finishing up the big wall project at your office pavilion and at the master bedroom and when they finish that they'll be able to jump on the other projects. But we wanted to finish one area before we moved to another.

I had sent you plans on the options for the kite house; do you have any comments? I'm also doing a new plan for the area behind the Tiki house and next to the terraced vegetable garden and I'll send it on Friday.
