Hello and good morning. I am so distraught over this and I feel terrible for you feeling the way you do about the situation. I had no idea, nor did the agents in my office, know you were the other person seeing this house until the attorney called Toni and finally released who the private person was. They came to me and said we are showing this house to the same person. I have known you for a very long time and I have never lied to you. I have only the upmost respect for you. I am just working hard trying to find my clients great homes that are not listed. Like the ones I sent over to you in August. I knew about these homes because the agents in my office have the pocket listings, like this other house on Canterbury. I have several others like that along Ocean. Our firm has great connections and I was asking them for great homes that are not listed, with you in mind. I value your opinion and have always asked your advice. I know you are a very private person and I respect that as well. I am sorry for any trouble you feel I have caused. Your friendship means a great deal to me. Please accept my apology.
