Subject: Report# 110: apt hunting, but better than job hunting

Date: Sat, 14 Nov 2009 17:54:04 +0000

Hallo everyone,

New mobile number:
[REDACTED]

I told my boss that I did a task, that would've taken a lesser person 2 days to do, in 5 min. He said that between my ego and his ego we gotta go and rent some more office space!

When the real estate agent asks you if you'll be sharing a studio with your husband and children, then you know you just solicited the wrong agent (an Indian or Pakistani).

I told the real estate agent that the apt was not in a good area.

"Mam, it's a VERY good area!" (with Indian accent).

"I see kids playing on the street. You call that a good area???"

Take care until next time!
