Understood
I do not know the architect...somewhere In South America....I can get a structural engineer on this to develop the over hang which is what Jeffery likes....should not be to difficult...then planning the house would be an easy program.....please advise

Mark:
We met with Jeffrey last week and we discussed replacing the existing small house on the Southeast coast of LSJ with a new small 1500 sf contemporary home.  I was going to prepare a quick site plan concept sketch to show how the house will work with the site and with a pool.  JE is wondering if you could get the floor plans for that house so that he could study it.  The photo in your brochure that he liked was the flat roofed house with the very generous overhang.  I believe the overhang fascia was faced with a stone.
Do you know the architect or can you get the floor plans?  He is willing to pay for them.
Thanks,

No
This came out of a book,just photos
Or are you talking about the UV prefab house.

Mark:
I'm meeting with Jeffrey today and he showed me the brochure on the South African house with the expansive overhangs. Do you have floorplans and elevations that you could forward; and additional photos if available?
Thanks for your help.
