Hello Jeffrey,

I have had a very good summer and wanted to let you know the exciting things that have happened with my designs.

Bergdorf Goodman successfully launched the new line of limited edition mirrors encrusted with ostrich eggs that I designed exclusively for them.

The September 2009 issue of Elle Decor (Page 42) features a preview of the knob and door pull line that I design using gold, silver, and semiprecious stones.

Town & Country magazine photographed my upcoming designs last week as part of Richard Mishaan's special town house design story. I will let you know in which issue it will appear.

Coca Cola has invited me to design the outer dressing of a solar-powered refrigerator that will be launching as a "green" show piece in summer 2010.

The special collection I designed exclusively for Harrods of London has been a huge success!

I am currently designing a new line of tabletop accessories for a luxury retail chain. I will be sure you receive photos of this collection when it is finished and ready to launch.

Thank you for your support of my work.

Warmest regards,

Eduardo

A preview catalog of my collection, as well as the mirrors I designed for Bergdorf Goodman may be seen here: CATALOGUE (This file contains images, please be patient). Let me know if you prefer to receive my catalog as an email attachment.
