Hi Jeffrey,

I'm doing good thank you. Living the normal life as possible in SF. Ethan is getting big. I got him into a private school here.

I've been working as an Aesthetician for some time now. However, I really would like to either go back to school to get an RN degree to advance my career. I'm hoping if I stick with this plan I could work with Plastic Surgeons or Dermatologist. This will take about 2-4 years for my studies and eventually have my own medical spa.

OR I could go back to school to study business (since I am an Entrepreneur at heart.) I'd like to open a small Bed&Breakfast/Boutique hotel with a Facial room and a small cafe/wine bar on the main floor. San Francisco needs something like this. It's not hip at all. I think I could do something small, modern, Europeanish. It's possible that I can generate money from quest room bookings, spa for my facial treatments for quest staying at the hotel and outside clients. The Cafe/bar would be open from morning to evening. There are a lot of big hotels here obviously, or cheap and ugly undesirable ones. I think I can really create something like NY or Paris in downtown Northbeach area.

What do you think? and do have any advice for me? I would greatly appreciate it.
I've been working on a business plan.

Anyway, I really hope to hear from you. It's been a long time since I last saw you! I hope you're well. miss u.
xoxo
