Here's an update from Chris:

To answer your question about the work on the site..

Everything is there with one exception. That new full size skull I had on display at Gadgetoff with the camera vision eye system is not yet there only because the piece is not complete yet. I figured I'd give the Gadgetoff audience an early sneak preview.

Here's his contact info.

Check out the sculptures on the website.

I think I saw other new ones not on there, so maybe have your people investigate.

But he is amazing.
