Date: Tue, 05 May 2009 23:10:26 +0000

Hi there!

The LaserSculpt Infomercial is DONE! You can go to the following FTP website and download it and watch it.

www.PacificPostEdit.com User Doctorvictor Password LaserSculpt Click the show to download and if you have a PC the download will show Done BUT you need to be patient and wait about 10 minutes for the show to begin...MAC users are in luck since the show starts almost immediately.

The clock will be gone for the master show that will air on TV. The phone number is added by the copying and closed caption company.

The brochure is done and if you want to order copies just let us know and we will give you details.

Also we are in the process of raising additional capital for future marketing so if you are interested in being an owner of the parent company, LaserSculpt, just call and I will give you all the information.

We have employed senior management to run the company and make this an even more successful venture for all. All the details will be coming in the next several weeks.

Enjoy the show and I will forward you the media schedule in the next several days.

Best and thank you for all your support!!!
