That's fine. i will call in the morning. Funny enough, I am leaving tomorrow to go to an event, similar to the one I was thinking about for you, which I helped organize, for Michael Robertson, the founder of MP3, along with many other successful companies. He has a sprawling 500 acre ranch in San Diego with prize horses, basketball courts, motorcycle and quad racing tracks, etc., etc. He has eight houses on his property, and I got about 35 top level guys to blow off steam in an inappropriately rowdy way. Should be fun...

Of course, we will have our productive conversations too.

I'll talk to you in the morning.

Hope you have looked at some of my facebook site through your assistant. Also, Steve Wolfram is coming to visit end of the month.

Cheers,
me
