I have waited since march, you have promised „promised and promised. you promised me you were an architect, , you promised that you had reviewed plans, you promised that the work on the cabinets was all done in france and sent to italy to assemble, you promised that the cabinets would be stained and finished only when they got to the island so that the wood would acclimate. you promised fancelli was coming on sept 26, then oct , your lawyer agreed a deal and then renegged. I have given you a less painful alternative and once again you attempt to promise something instead

You see, I'm working for a solution that could be even better than Fancelli and you cut my wings. I don't understand you.

I have thought about it. Don't put me deadlines so I (we) can resolve this. Tomorrow is a holiday in Europe, so I will call you Tuesday, I have someone in mind. I will continue though trying with Fancelli. J.P.
