If he says sorry I'm using your name then i don't reply or i say ok best of luck

Or if he wants to negotiate and say depends what you can tell me

Or what about confirming his facts As you said I dint jnkw what they are

Got two emails from them

The PDU is the work I was brought over to do - mostly the data and open data that made everyone mad when we started exposing their data. [REDACTED] and his executive team would set targets for each major operational team and they had to meet them and i had to monitor the data

They hated the targets and also the transparency. like when the world learned it took 39 months to make a loan or when we had no staff diversity etc.

But I built 4 versions of a website - one every 9 months or so and made it all live etc

See the site as it is today hasn't been updated in a year.

What about this phone scenario?

When I call him at 10:

Will Confirm off the record and will ask him to record the call

Will have him on speaker phone from the landline and will have you on speaker phone from my iPhone

And you can text me comments?
