im never mad at you.   I do not understand your stories. .   when you tell a reporter , we didn't have dinner alone.   but he gets reports that of course you did PEOPLE saw it.   it puts you in jeopardy.   I am frustrated that your stories change and that you are in danger ,   you ask me to hep and i text you to please stop talking . but you continue and say , we rarely traveled together....   no reason to do it

I told you we didn't have dinner alone. People may have seen us waiting to have dinner with bill.
Or they may have seen me walk into a restaurant where we had a team dinner but no one can say we had dinner alone that just isn't true.

He asked me why we traveled together and I said we rarely traveled together. And it's not together. It's work. We have been to same cities and meetings yes I worked at the Bank. There is an entourage and a team. Why aren't people questioning the others in the team about travel with him?

It's very hard to prove things I didn't do. I can offer names of other people around or who should know truth. I can provide only documentation I have access to. Just feel like I'm getting beat up for something I didn't do and can't prove i didn't do.

This is from the crisis lead at the Bank just now —-

█████ - Bank is still on the yahoo reporter and wanted to send you and update. He is a creep. There is no misuse of funds and that seems to be his main suggestion to us recently. We have an idea of what will be said and have prepared a response to what we know is coming. We will have an official response to all bank-related issues. So no need to worry about misuse or other accusations. There's nothing new in any of his allegations and everything he has asked about the bank has clarified. He has been given all factual details for each of the specific allegations he provided. The trips have already been looked at by the ethics board as you recall and nothing was found. You followed all policy as did the executive team. Please enjoy your weekend.
