Btw. I survived. I am in hospital bed and have already been able to move and get my underwear on and walk around the room with walker. Without pain. Amazing within 3 hours of having my hip ripped apart. (Of course anesthesia is still functioning). If my blood pressure hadn't dropped then they might have let me outa here by now. I feel ready to walk home! If it keeps dropping when I stand I may have to stay overnight. Property of the spinal relaxant they gave me for the surgery apparently.
