Re: [REDACTED]
Form 1040
December 31, 2014

Dear Ms. Koffi,

Please see below in response to your information document request dated September 18, 2017.

1. Gross Receipts:

- Sales Tax: $15,303 – I think the correct amount is $15,105

Please note that the invoice #140011 ($185,305) was recorded in 2014 as follows:

Accounts Receivable	$185,305
Arwork Sales		$170,000
Shipping Income		200
Sales Tax Payable		15,105

I don't think $15,105 was deducted as an expense, rather it was recorded as sales tax payable.

- Commissions: $75,000

Please see attached December 2013 bank statement and general ledger. $75,000 was recorded and reported on 2013 tax return.

2. COGS

- Art Fabrication Purchase: $68,112.13

Please see attached two art fabrication invoices along with a statement that was created by Sublime Art: (1) Invoice #200114 from Illuminated Matter totaling $20,000 for two works of art, (2) Invoice #141017 from Illuminated Matter totaling $64,134.97, (3) a statement that was created in relation to Invoice #141017 that documents all payments made toward it. Please note that only $48,112.13 was paid toward Invoice #141017 as the covers referenced on the invoice (totaling $16,022.84) had yet to be finished. So: $48,112.13 (Invoice #141017) + $20,000 (#Invoice #200114) = $68,112.13 (the total for Artwork Fabrication). Also, note that Invoice #200114 from Illuminated Matter totaling $20,000 was inadvertently categorized as "Art Fabrication" as these works of art were originally to be resold in 2014. The correct allocation for this should be "Inventory."

- Purchases: $138,000

Please note that Sublime Art LLC uses accrual basis accounting method and the purchases you mentioned above are related to sales invoice #140011 (please see response #1 above). Even though $185,305 sales were received in January 2015, the amount was recorded and reported on 2014 tax return because of the company's accrual accounting method. I believe that sales (invoice #140011) and purchases ($138,000) were recorded correctly when incurred, not when paid based.

3. Travel expenses

- Lodging: $14,535

Receipts from the Hotel Vozdushny Express, the Sandy Lane (Barbados), the Delano (Miami) and the Ritz Carlton (Miami). We can also provide the American Express statements documenting these purchases if necessary. Also attached is the 2014 Miami Basel Fair Guide as well as the Sublime Art travel log that provides dates of travel, lodging and a brief explanation of each.

- Taxi: $12,553

All of the paper taxi receipts that exist are here in our office if you would like to review. In addition, please find attached a copy of Anastasiya Siroochenko's work calendar that documents business meetings, business trips, exhibition openings attended, etc.

Please call me if you have any questions.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jay Kim, CPA

Art Basel Miami Beach 2014 Fairs Guide

JOSE D. DURAN | NOVEMBER 12, 2014 | 11:05AM

The art fairs are coming!

Seriously, last time we counted, almost 20 major art fairs are setting up shop in Miami and Miami Beach during the first week of December, hoping to make record-breaking sales thanks to the hoopla surrounding Art Basel Miami Beach. And though the Miami Beach Convention Center remains the center of all the action, you'd be a fool not to check out satellite fairs such as Scope, NADA, and Art Miami, which have proven themselves worthy of respect and attention.

There are some changes this year, including Pulse's surprising move from its longtime home at Ice Palace Studios to a tent in Mid-Beach next to the Eden Roc. Select Art Fair is also looking for more room as it moves out of the Catalina Hotel and into North Shore Park in North Beach.

And some fairs will be notably absent, including Arts Kuala Lumpur and Brazil Art Fair, both of which debuted last year but didn't see the need to return. We also lament the absence of Fountain Art Fair, one of Miami's original satellite art fairs, which continues to put on a New York edition.

But enough lamenting. Time to celebrate at the art marketplace!
