Need to cancel?

You have the right to cancel for a full refund unless your designated recipient has already received the payment. However, since most PayPal payments are received within seconds, you may not be able to cancel your payment for a full refund once the payment is made. To determine whether your payment is eligible for cancellation, log in to your PayPal account at www.paypal.com, select the transaction in your transaction details and select Cancel, or call Customer Service at [REDACTED].

About disputes

If this payment is for an item you purchased but haven't received, or it's not as described, your purchase may be covered under PayPal, Inc.'s purchase protection. In those cases, you can file a dispute in the Resolution Center within 180 days of payment. Just log in to your PayPal account at www.paypal.com and go to the Resolution Center or call Customer Service at 1-[REDACTED].

If you have a different problem with this payment sent to someone outside the United States for example, the payment was never received, or it was processed for the wrong amount, you have up to 180 days to dispute it. To file a dispute for this payment or to request a written explanation of your rights, go to the Resolution Center or call Customer Service.

If you don't recognize this payment or want to report it as unauthorized, you can file a dispute in the Resolution Center at any time. To file a dispute, go to the Resolution Center or call Customer Service.
