I know we went back and forth but thought we last said send to boat to Florida once nautica finally arrives in Stt. Should we take boat to offshore to remove tubes or prepare to ship boat to Florida. Other issue with shipping to Florida was that quotes 1 year ago were 12-14k and now are coming in closer to 20k. Please advise after boat goes to offshore tubes only or boat to Florida.

Are you saying since Lower unit off sportis we should also remove tubes and ship tubes only to florida. Then have Silvio come to Stt and install. Please confirm. Thank you.

The unit will take 2-3 days to arrive to them, boats.net and then they truck to tropical that fee is included in quote. We have bought 3-4 lower units from boats.net. They are the cheapest on yamaha parts I have gotten bids in the past but nobody comes close. Offshore asks 5 k for this part and they also have to order it. These lower units are pushing hard look at little c with like 10 people in it, everybody wants to sit on back and right side(dry side). I did some numbers, when Little c gas full tank of gas thats 1600 lbs and 10 guys at 200 lbs thats 2000 more pounds.
