Advancing according to its own logic, much of science has lost sight of the better world it is supposed to help create. Shielded from accountability to anything outside of itself, the “free play of free intellects” begins to seem like little more than a cover for indifference and irresponsibility. The tragic irony here is that the stunted imagination of mainstream science is a consequence of the very autonomy that scientists insist is the key to their success. Only through direct engagement with the real world can science free itself to rediscover the path toward truth.

I just landed in NY

I'm staring a new phase in my life visa vis my relationship with my critics

2 scientific papers on my work will be out soon

Leonard read the new book and made some corrections so now 3 physicists have made sure that the science is accurate

If you haven't sent the book to him please hold off so he gets a corrected copy.

I'm going to get off my high horse (the tiger I can't) and try and start a dialogue with anyone who is willing .

I will do as you guide me

I'm going this afternoon to NJ to do a fundraiser for an orphanage and then to Boston until Monday afternoon

Meeting Barnaby on Monday afternoon
Tuesday I'm doing an event in NY with Eric Schadt to announce new meditation research
