I get your point. I believe what actually happened is that in 2015 melanie was still paying for certain items. You combine that with the fact that rich does his "nail it to the ground" review" end of march/april (which will be changed in the future...no reason to wait this late) and a few items like the clothes....also some pipes and canes are found in the review. As payables are fully moved over to elysium (now the case) these "catches" shld be increasingly limited but I believe a review will always find something.

On a different note we just got the apollo #'s and there are significant changes in the projections. Rich is meeting with apollo tomorrow and we will put into cogent form to discuss with you. Bottom-line, less income and taxes looking into the future. B

The fact that Joslin said he only recently discovered that there was use tax due on the return because he " recognized the name of Leons tailor " is ludicrous. " recognizing a name" months after the fact clearly demonstrates still no accounting system in place , it is a prescription for trouble.
