the ultimate question is really the cost of the cable. I have no idea. that really is a critical part of yours and my decision process. reduce sea impact. reduce land impact. . redundancy , reliability, safety.etc.

I could definitely look at it. Its only 1565. Remember we have the tree boa and we'll have to cut everything by hand, but yes it has the very least potential impact, I have to look at the landing and we'll have to go around salt pond but its probably do able. I'll look next week.

could we do it.? and find a way , this way the cable is super short. little impact. easy to fix a problem.
land cable. is easier to find bury fix. , if we put it south of that out cropping, we could stay away from salt ponds , also it is only a narrow trench/
