airplane. . it is not complex complicated or time consuming, no new consultants needed. no new tax lawyers. it is standard procedure. your situation is no different than hundreds of others , unlike your complex estate plan. Since June, I have tried to explain to you that your office as staffed and constructed , seems incapable of producing the most basic accounting and reporting accurately I only used the airplane as an example for YOU. memos. meetings .emails, meetings about emails. emails about meetings. refusal to turn over outside suggestions. . I had hoped this would enable you to see things as i do. . fyi, for two years I have kept joslin on board. the first time he wanted to quit i paid his kids school out of my own money, to keep him. you rightly decided to modify that arrangement. only last sat he said he was fine as long as I guaranteed that he would be treated fairly in the future , and not dismissed on a whim. he mentioned he was told that geller was being brought in. I had not one part in any negotiation to keep him ,this time./ that being said his reports are fatally flawed, . confused , and as you may recall even as of last oct . I had to review your returns myself for days..
