Jeffrey, as per our conversation down below please find my bio.

Vince R Montegan is an architect, with tenacious attention to details and quality, who developed his skills working for 30 years in various fields for the architecture industry along with authorities as Renzo Piano, Renzo Mongiardino, Gino Valle, Paolo Portoghesi, Aldo Rossi, Mario Botta.

Vince grew up in Italy, lived in England and is now based in US, tristate area. He earned a master degree in Architecture in Venice and committed to the tradition of architecture started his career as register architect in 1985, working on historical preservation. Later in Rome was involved in multiple commercial projects and in Trieste, early-nineties he signed the new Master Plan. He also had a parallel career as a developer, for few years, and renovated some important historical buildings.

In London he kept working and experimenting cutting-edge landscape. In the mid-nineties he decided to move to US, precisely in New York, and start to collaborate-consult several firms as hi-end residential designer. In 2001 he incorporated his own company and later became US citizen. He now spends his days planning various and particular houses, designing superlative gardens and great furniture.

At least for the moment...

In addition herewith there are some hand drawing-sketches that considering their sizes I'm sending by four different emails.

I'll see you on Wednesday 3;15PM.

Best
