Good afternoon all, I have located a new lower unit for PRD starboard engine the cost with shipping will be approx 3,800.00 dollars , that is to tropical shipping. They do not accept CC payments of this amount over the phone, so they will send wire info if we go ahead with purchase.

Thankyou
Carlos

Greetings all, yesterday afternoon Peter drove prd to redhook as he was leaving they hit something on the bottom, i saw they had the motors up but when I left Isj they were already going again. When I saw the people that traveled in prd they said they might have snagged on a rope. This morning after close exam the propeller is banged up and the engine fin is broken. Im looking for a propeller to replace and will repor t if that will fix the problem and report back after testing.
