http://www.slate.com/articles/technology/technology/2009/10/that_tune_named.html here a different form of matching to see if it a song that you have already heard. only fifteen points. of match with a hash function. quite insensitive to noise. / once laid down, a grammar could be established . leaving room for some hard wiring ie alarm calls etc. and mapped , a sentence might be seen to be grammatical or not.
