i spoke with Stefano and he said the Apline system installed is the top of the line radio they make he installed the 153BT so that you would have USB and Aux inputs but if you prefer he can swap out for 149BT (which was in his email earlier) below he says subs are 400 watts stefano asked if you could come by shop so he can walk you thru system and make any changes you would like please advise

thank you

The specs are here above the difference can be changed on bill... We had changed it so he could access the front inputs. You have AUX and USB and Bluetooth. The cde 149bt just has them from back that needs to be ran somewhere to plug in.. We change it out easy.. plug and play.. whatever makes him happy we will change it too.
