Here is a link to the work our nonprofit does in nutrition and metabolic disease:
[REDACTED]

We have four trials ongoing and just launched a pilot study in pediatric nonalcoholic fatty liver disease (NAFLD). Our next big project will be the definitive study on NAFLD in kids (see attachment). Brutal problem... 7 million kids.

If you'd like any press stuff on our org, I can send some along.

On longevity, I don't write much about what I do, since my practice is very boutique and not advertised. I did, however, write the attached "manifesto" last year at the request of a friend to try to simplify what I do. It's a bit long, and in person I can probably do a better (and quicker!) job explaining it. My work as a doc is separate from my work in nonprofit space.

send both, as you may know I fund longevity work with George Church at Harvard.

Depends on what you'd like to talk about.

If you would like to speak about the work our nonprofit is doing, there are 2 things I'd pass along.

If you would like to speak about my medical work in longevity/healthspan, I can send something else over.

We can talk about both, obviously, if you have time.

Hi Jeffrey, I'll be in NY June 7-12. Back twice in July if that week doesn't work.

Look forward to meeting.
